

BEDFORD S

A Face You Recognize Everywhere

Launched in 1950 and produced for about a decade, the Bedford S Type was the biggest Bedford truck at that time. Today, they can still be found in palm oil estates where they operate under tough conditions.

The highly recognisable front makes it possible to spot them from far. Even when they are abandoned in the thicket of overgrowth or parked far away from the roads.

