

Online safety training and custom solutions

Empowering Trust®

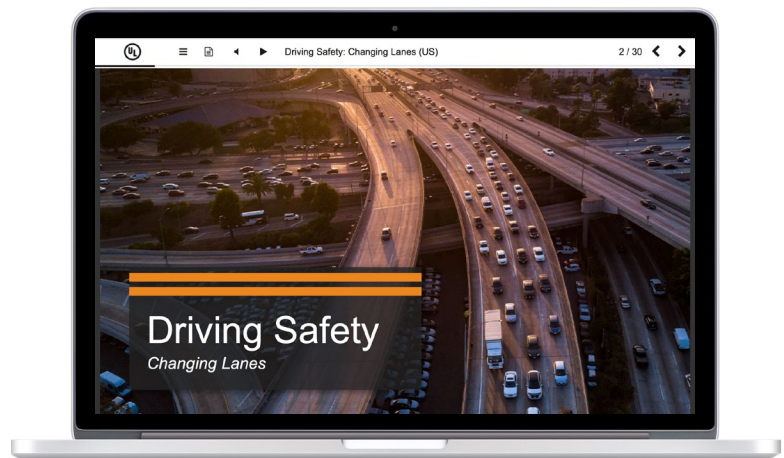

Comprehensive, flexible solutions to meet your specific learning needs

Your priority is giving your employees the skills and knowledge they need to be productive, successful and safe on the job. From regulatory-based safety training to employee health best practices and more, collaborate with UL for the content and learning solutions you need.

UL's Environmental Health and Safety (EHS) learning solutions help you meet this obligation with our extensive, up-to-date library of hundreds of online environmental, health and safety topics. Select courses from UL's extensive EHS catalog, customize our existing off-the-shelf trainings or let us create custom content to meet your company objectives.

UL's courses are created by our own team of subject matter experts, certified safety professionals and degreed adult learning specialists. Their focus is on thorough subject matter research and instruction, staying ahead of changing regulatory standards and trending industry practices, all while building and updating online courses applicable to leading industries. The EHS course catalog also includes globally relevant topics in a variety of languages so you can ensure your employees all around the world receive a consistent foundation of knowledge.

- UL hosted courses are SCORM and AICC conformant and stay current with automatic, hands-free updates.
- Employees can access or manage training 24/7 from any internet-connected device.
- Fully customizable courses feature engaging content and activities to resonate with employees' experiences, reinforce lessons and optimize learning.

Create safer conditions for your employees

We have an expert understanding of risk, regulations and roles to develop and deliver training solutions to those who need it—when and where they need it. We monitor and manage regulatory training content for adherence with Occupational Safety Health Administration (OSHA), Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), American National Standards Institute (ANSI), and National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) and other governing standards. UL's effective training helps people act appropriately for improved safety, quality and productivity while meeting organizational compliance.

Safety expertise

UL has been the leader in safety knowledge and management. From our beginnings as a fire safety company to present, our mission has been rooted in safety expertise.

Creating the safest conditions for your employees is more than just doing what is required; it takes a commitment. Companies that incorporate online learning into their safety training programs need to ensure that their content is high-quality, reliable, measurable and conforms to global leading practices in environmental health and safety.

Our certified EHS advisers and industry experts monitor and maintain content for regulatory changes and best practices. We are an authorized OSHA Outreach Provider, and the programs we offer include:

- OSHA 10-hour General Industry (English or Spanish, with proctoring)
- OSHA 10-hour General Industry for High-Tech/Semiconductor (English)
- OSHA 10-hour Construction (English or Spanish, with proctoring)
- OSHA 30-hour Construction (English, with proctoring)

We offer EHS content in top global languages for consistent safety messages available to all employees. Our globally relevant courses deliver comprehensive training on the most important safety topics to every employee, everywhere. We also provide awareness training to deliver critical safety guidelines and best safety practices quickly, as well as focused U.S. and state-specific regulatory training.

Content creation and customization

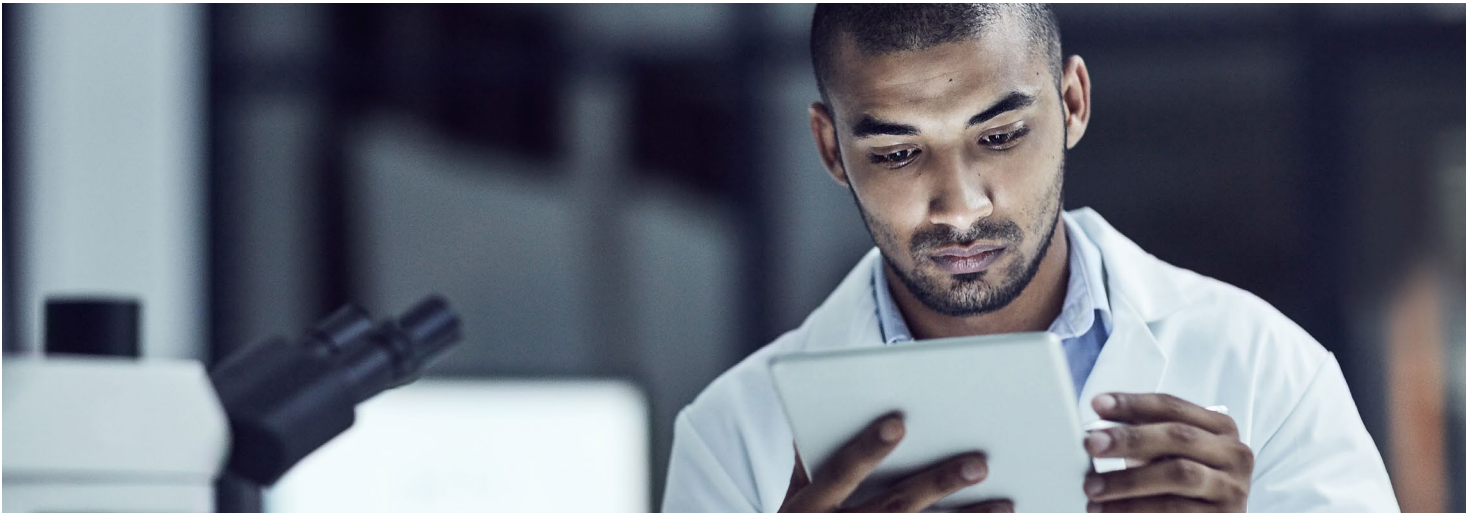

UL's EHS Learning Solutions team can customize existing EHS courses or develop new ones to meet your specific learning needs. Turn your critical procedures and manuals into engaging e-learning. Create foundational training for any topic from machine operation to contractor onboarding practices or any other process or regulation. Certified project managers work with you from start to finish to help ensure on-time, on-brand, accurate and engaging e-learning courses adapting your company's employee education needs. Maximize your training results with:

- New courses on any topic
- Customized off-the-shelf training (content, images, and more)
- Performance support materials
- Immersive simulations
- Microlearning solutions

Editing UL's safety courses on your own

UL EHS Learning Solutions now offers an editable format of the safety courses to customers who want to modify the content themselves. With an active safety course agreement, you can now get access to Claro, part of the authoring platform. Using Claro, you can:

- Edit a course's logo, text, images and audio.
- Duplicate courses to develop new translations.
- Publish courses with a variety of playback and behavior settings.
- Download courses to SCORM (1.2, 2004), AICC, xAPI and web server format.
- Develop custom content.

Empowering employees with knowledge and expertise

Why e-learning?

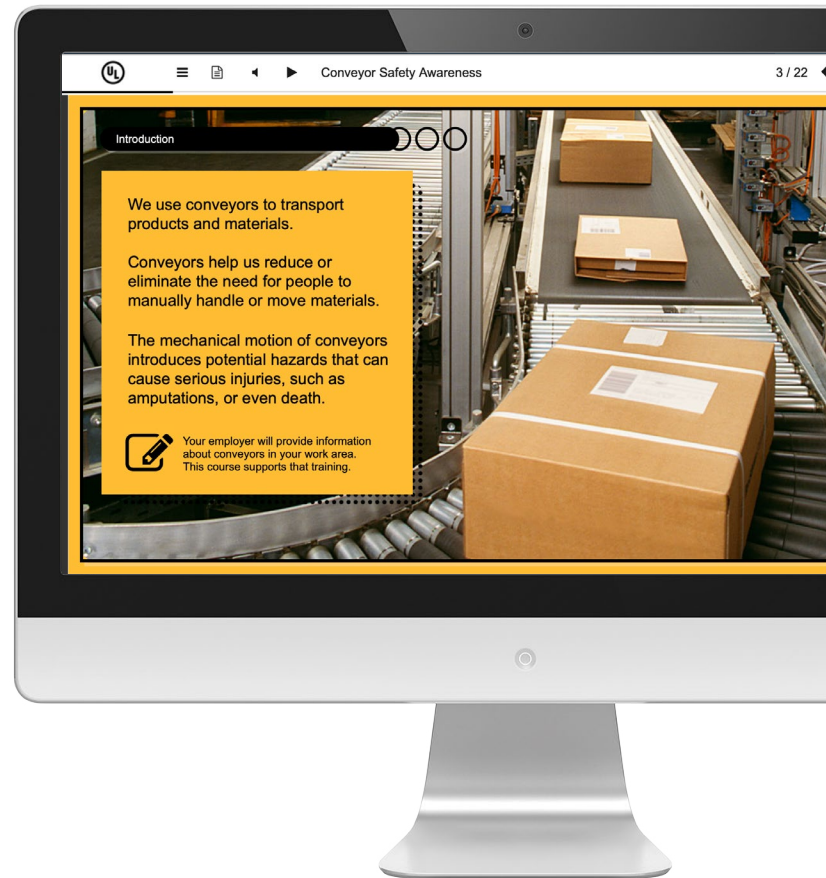

One of your organization's greatest competitive advantages, aside from your employees, resides in your efficient communication of knowledge and procedures to drive measurable results.

The world's leading companies recognize the intrinsic value and cost-efficiency of transforming critical procedures and processes into expert-developed solutions in the form of online learning management system (LMS) training courses to instill product and service consistently to employees, contractors and suppliers.

Web-based employee training has never been more easily accessible with our continuously updated, premium-content library, available to customers on our LMS system with options to fit your specific needs. Need to train employees all over the world in multiple languages? Need to train employees who do not have access to the internet? Contact us—we can help.

Partner with us

Looking to sell UL's training content to your organization and clients? We partner with many organizations and training content providers to resell our course content through their platforms. We can create a new learning platform branded with your organization's colors and customizations to give your learners a custom learning experience, backed with UL training content.
