Dear

I'm interested in enrolling in a training program focused on functional safety relevant to the work we do. With additional skills and knowledge, I can be a more productive employee, enhance our team's skillset and share my experience.

I found a program offered by UL that looks like a good fit for me. When I was researching options for training, I was impressed with the UL Certified Functional Safety Certification Program's course offerings, because they're taught by actual industry experts with years of experience in the field. They're backed by science and designed for working professionals. This program covers the most up-to-date functional safety standards and regulations and will test my skills through a final exam.

I'm not the only one that will benefit from this certification — our whole team will. With additional functional safety skills and up-to-date knowledge, I can add to our company's overall knowledge base.

Please take a look at the UL Certified Functional Safety Certification Program here.
