

Shelter Kitchen, McCormick's Creek State Park, Indiana

This type of structure, so frequent in the Northwest, moves eastward to bid for popularity in the Hoosier State. The chimney serves six picnic ovens, and is located at the center of the sheltering roof. The shake roof has agreeable scale.