

Cabins, Cumberland Falls State Park, Kentucky

Opposite are shown plans typical of cabins developed in this park. There is hint of spaciousness in some of these that, while not undesirable, is perhaps not essential for over-night or brief vacation occupancy, nor so much in demand as more compact and therefore less expensive accommodation. Above are shown a type C cabin (left) and a type A (right). To the right of this caption is pictured a type D cabin.

