Current projections from the Office of National Statistics are that immigration into Britain will be about 185,000 a year from 2021 onwards. These do not take account of whether Britain stays in the European Union or David Cameron's renegotiation of Britain's membership of the EU.

If Britain votes to stay in the European Union and the renegotiated terms agreed by David Cameron were implemented, do you think immigration into Britain would end up being...

Currently as a member of the European Union Britain has free trade with other EU members, and there is free movement between Britain and the EU, with EU citizens free to live and work in Britain. Imagine Britain voted to leave the European Union, do you think...

It would probably be possible for Britain to negotiate free trade with the rest of the EU, without having to allow EU citizens to live and work in Britain	27	31	16	15	59	21	33	18	16	63	31	24	20	24	31	34	26	29	24	26	30	30	22	8	52	14	22
It would probably be possible for Britain to negotiate free trade with the rest of the EU, but only if we agreed to let EU citizens live and work in Britain	26	26	39	41	10	38	26	33	48	10	27	26	33	24	28	26	32	18	27	27	25	23	33	42	16	17	25
It would probably not be possible for Britain to negotiate free trade with the rest of the EU anyway, regardless of whether or not we offered EU citizens the right to live and work here	18	20	20	24	12	30	17	21	19	13	19	17	12	17	21	21	19	17	21	18	16	15	27	29	13	7	12

If you HAD to choose one or the other, which of the following would you prefer?

	21-23 Feb	25-26 April
Britain having full control over immigration from Europe, but British businesses no longer having free access to trade with the EU	49	47	49	30	23	84	23	53	34	29	89	48	47	28	46	53	54	38	59	44	49	49	50	34	17	77	46	49
