

Jamming
attack

- A senses the channel between T and R , and jams it if it is busy.

Spectrum
data
falsification
attack

- A provides the classifier at T with wrong sensing data (i.e., reports idle if the channel is busy, and vice versa).

Priority
violation
attack

- A acts as if it has a higher priority and claims the channel by transmitting.