Title 2            Indications of Source

Art. 47            Principle

<sup>1</sup> Indications of source are direct or indirect references to the geographical origin of goods or services, including references to their characteristics or the quality associated with their origin.

<sup>2</sup> Geographical names and signs that are not understood by the relevant public as indicating a certain origin of the goods or services, are not considered indications of source within the meaning of paragraph 1.

<sup>3</sup> It is prohibited to use:

- a. incorrect indications of source;
- b. designations that may be confused with an incorrect indication of source;
- c.<sup>49</sup> a name, a company name, an address or a trade mark associated with goods or services of a different origin where this could be misleading.

<sup>3bis</sup> Where indications of source are used with additions such as «kind», «type», «style» or «imitation», the same requirements must be fulfilled that apply to the use of indications of source without these additions.<sup>50</sup>

<sup>3ter</sup> Indications regarding research or design or other specific activities associated with the product may only be used if this activity takes place entirely at the specified location.<sup>51</sup>

<sup>4</sup> Regional or local indications of source for services are considered to be correct if such services satisfy the criteria of origin for the country concerned as a whole.

<sup>49</sup> Amended by No 1 of the Federal Act of 21 June 2013, in force since 1 Jan. 2017 (AS 2015 3631; BBl 2009 8533).

<sup>2</sup> Any additional requirements such as compliance with manufacturing or processing principles or quality requirements that are customary or prescribed in the place of origin must also be fulfilled.

<sup>3</sup> In each individual case, all requirements are to be determined according to the understanding of the relevant public, and where applicable, in accordance with their influence on the reputation of the goods concerned.

<sup>4</sup> The place of origin or processing for Swiss indications of source for natural products and foodstuffs is the Swiss territory and customs union areas. The Federal Council may define the border areas, which are exceptionally considered as the place of origin or processing for Swiss indications of source.

<sup>5</sup> Where a foreign indication of source meets the statutory requirements of the country concerned, it is considered to be correct. Any possible misleading of consumers in Switzerland remains reserved.

Art. 48a<sup>53</sup> Natural products

The origin of a natural product corresponds to:

- a. for mineral products: the place where they were extracted;
- b. for plant products: the place where they were harvested;

<sup>2</sup> The origin of a foodstuff is the place from which at least 80 per cent of the raw material weight that makes up the foodstuff comes from. For milk and dairy products, the weight of milk as the raw material must equal 100 per cent.

- a. natural products which, due to natural conditions, cannot be produced at the place of origin;
- b. natural products that are temporarily not available in sufficient quantities at the place of origin.

<sup>4</sup> For the calculation under paragraph 2, all raw materials for which the domestic self-supply rate is at least 50 per cent must be taken into account. Where the raw material self-supply rate is 20–49.9 per cent, only half of the raw materials are to be taken into account. Where the raw material self-supply rate is less than 20 per cent, the raw materials may be excluded from the calculation. The Federal Council shall regulate the details.

<sup>5</sup> In addition, the indication of source must correspond to the place where the processing, which has given the foodstuff its essential characteristics, has taken place.

- c. costs for quality assurance and certification which are prescribed by law or standardised in an economic sector.

- a. costs for natural products which, due to natural conditions, cannot be produced at the place of origin;
- b. costs for raw materials which, in accordance with an ordinance under Article 50 paragraph 2, are not available in sufficient quantities at the place of origin for objective reasons;

<sup>4</sup> In addition, the indication of source must correspond to the place where the activity, which gave the product its essential characteristics, took place. In all cases, an essential manufacturing step must have been carried out at this place.

Art. 48d<sup>57</sup> Exceptions

The requirements set out in Articles 48a–48c do not apply if:

- a. a geographical indication was registered under Article 16 AgricA<sup>58</sup> prior to the entry into force of this provision; or
- b. a manufacturer is able to prove that the indications of source used correspond to the relevant public.

Art. 49<sup>59</sup> Indications of source for services

- a. it corresponds to the registered office of the person providing the service; and
- b. a place of effective administration of this person is located in the same country.

<sup>2</sup> Where a parent company fulfils the requirements of paragraph 1 letter a, and either it or one of its subsidiaries effectively controlled by it and domiciled in the same country fulfils the requirements of paragraph 1 letter b, then the indication of source is also considered to be correct for similar services provided by the foreign subsidiaries and the branch offices of the parent company.

<sup>3</sup> Any additional requirements such as compliance with prescribed or customary principles of providing the service or the traditional association of the person providing the service with the country of origin must also be fulfilled.

<sup>4</sup> A foreign indication of source is considered to be correct where it meets the statutory requirements of the country concerned. Any possible misleading of consumers in Switzerland remains reserved.

Art. 49a<sup>60</sup> Indications of source in advertising

Indications of source in advertising are considered to be correct if the origin of all of the products and services advertised therein corresponds to Articles 48–49.

Art. 50<sup>61</sup> Special provisions

<sup>1</sup> Where justified by consumer interests, the general interests of the economy or of individual sectors, the Federal Council may define the requirements under Articles 48 paragraph 2 and 48a–49 in greater detail.

<sup>2</sup> It may, in particular, at the request and based on a preliminary draft of an economic sector, define in greater detail the requirements under which a Swiss indication of source may be used for specific goods and services.

<sup>3</sup> It shall first hear the Cantons concerned and interested professional and trade associations, as well as consumer organisations.

Art. 50a<sup>62</sup> Register for geographical indications

<sup>1</sup> The Federal Council shall establish a register for geographical indications for goods, which excludes agricultural products, processed agricultural products and wine, as well as forestry products and processed forestry products.

<sup>2</sup> It regulates in particular:

- a. entitlement to register;
- b. requirements for registration, in particular the requirements for the product specification;
- c. the procedure for registration and objection;
- d. control procedures.

<sup>3</sup> Decisions and services in connection with the register are subject to fees.

<sup>4</sup> Registered geographical indications may not become generic names. Generic names cannot be registered as geographical indications.

<sup>5</sup> Any person who uses a registered geographical indication for identical or comparable goods must comply with the product specifications. This obligation does not apply to the use of trade marks that are identical or similar to a registered geographical indication and which were filed or registered in good faith, or that have been acquired through use in good faith:

- a. prior to 1 January 1996; or
- b. prior to the name of the registered geographical indication being protected in the country of origin, insofar as none of the grounds for nullity or revocation set out in this Act apply to the trade mark concerned.

<sup>6</sup> Where a trade mark containing a geographical indication, identical or similar to a geographical indication for which registration has been applied, is filed for identical or comparable goods, the trade mark examination procedure shall be suspended until the final decision on the application for registration of the geographical indication.

<sup>61</sup> Amended by No I of the Federal Act of 21 June 2013, in force since 1 Jan. 2017 (AS 2015 3631; BBl 2009 8533).

<sup>62</sup> Inserted by No I of the Federal Act of 21 June 2013, in force since 1 Jan. 2017 (AS 2015 3631; BBl 2009 8533).

<sup>7</sup> Following registration of the geographical indication, the trade mark may only be registered for identical or comparable goods. The goods must be restricted to the geographical origin described in the product specifications.

- a. any commercial use for other products, whereby the reputation of the protected designation is exploited;
- b. any act of appropriation, counterfeiting or imitation.

Art. 51            Producer identification mark

Art. 52            Action for declaratory judgment

Any person who can demonstrate a legal interest may apply to the court for a declaratory judgement as to whether a right or legal relationship governed by this Act does or does not exist.

Art. 53            Action for assignment of a trade mark

<sup>1</sup> The plaintiff may bring an action for the assignment of the trade mark instead of a declaration of nullity of the trade mark registration if the defendant has usurped the trade mark.

<sup>3</sup> If the court orders the assignment, then licences or other rights granted to third parties in the intervening period lapse; however, if they have used the trade mark commercially in Switzerland in good faith or have made special preparations for this purpose, these third parties are entitled to be granted a non-exclusive licence.<sup>64</sup>

<sup>63</sup> Inserted by No I of the Federal Act of 21 June 2013, in force since 1 Jan. 2017 (AS 2015 3631; BBl 2009 8533).

The authority passing judgment shall provide the IPI with full official copies of its decisions, including those regarding preliminary measures and decisions on dismissal after they have been issued, without delay and free of charge.

Art. 55 Action for performance

<sup>1</sup> Any person whose right to a trade mark or an indication of source is infringed or threatened may request the court:

- a. to prohibit an imminent infringement;
- b. to remedy an existing infringement;
- c.<sup>67</sup> to require the defendant to provide information on the origin and quantity of items in his possession that unlawfully bear the trade mark or the indication of source and to name the recipients and disclose the extent of any distribution to commercial and industrial customers.

<sup>2bis</sup> An action for performance may be instituted only after the entry of the trade mark in the Register. Claims for damages may be made retroactively from the time at which the defendant obtained knowledge of the content of the application for registration.<sup>69</sup>

<sup>3</sup> The use of a guarantee or collective mark contrary to the applicable regulations also constitutes an infringement of a trade mark right.

<sup>4</sup> Any person who holds an exclusive licence is entitled to bring a separate action irrespective of the registration of the licence in the Register unless this is expressly excluded in the licence agreement. Any licensees may join an infringement action in order to claim for their own damages.<sup>70</sup>
